

A young boy with short, light-colored hair is seen from the side, focused on playing a bright yellow upright piano. The piano is the central focus, with its keys and wooden casing clearly visible. The background is dark, making the piano and the boy stand out. The lighting is soft, highlighting the boy's concentration and the texture of the piano's wood.

A young boy with light-colored hair is seen from the side, playing a grand piano. The piano is illuminated with warm, golden light, highlighting its wooden structure and the keys. The background is dark, making the piano and the boy stand out. The boy's hands are positioned on the keyboard, and he appears to be in the middle of playing.
